SD1 Keeps Things Flowing Through Continuous Improvement

Over the course of the last several years, Sanitation District No. 1 (SD1) has transformed itself through the simple concept of continuous improvement.

When Adam Chaney became executive director in 2017, his goal was to leverage his business experience to build a culture of continuous improvement at SD1.

Chaney, SD1 staff and its Board of Directors quickly got to work identifying and prioritizing the areas of the organization that had the most room for improvement.

This work began with defining the scope of the stormwater utility and creating a prioritized plan for stormwater projects. They developed new cost-share programs to help local governments; removed about 1,500 properties from the stormwater service area; and last month reduced the stormwater fee for the second time in three years.

SD1 developed a long-term financial model that has brought predictability and transparency, allowing decisionmakers to see how variables such as account growth, water consumption and long-term debt affect SD1's financial position over time. The model highlighted the need for SD1 to take a different approach to its rate structure, leading to a base rate model that now ties what each customer pays to the actual cost of providing service.

While the cultural shift has borne numerous other improvements, the crown jewel of SD1's continuous improvement work is its Clean H2O40 sewer overflow mitigation program. Learn more about that on page 2.

SD1 is Making Our Community Better Through Continuous Improvement

Sewer overflows are not a new challenge in Northern Kentucky – SD1 has completed about 50 overflow elimination projects since 2005 – however, the District has taken a new approach to this critical work through its Clean H2O40 program.

A sewer overflow occurs when wastewater that is supposed to be contained within the region's sewer system escapes the system. There are two types – sanitary sewer overflows (SSOs) and combined sewer overflows (CSOs). SSOs occur when stormwater finds its way into pipes that are designed to carry only wastewater, thus overwhelming the system. CSOs occur when pipes designed to carry both stormwater and wastewater are overwhelmed by wet weather.

“Sewer overflows are a threat to public health and quality of life,” SD1 Executive Director Adam Chaney says. “Our team works tirelessly to eliminate overflows because we care about our community.”

Clean H2O40 is a partnership between SD1 and state and federal regulators to address Northern Kentucky's overflows over the next 20 years, with an ultimate target of January 1, 2040. The program's strategy focuses on storing excess stormwater in equalization (EQ) tanks and other structures across the region and then gradually releasing it back into the sewer system, keeping it from becoming overwhelmed. This approach has lowered the projected cost of the program by hundreds of millions of dollars, allowing SD1 to do this important work to keep local waterways clean and healthy while keeping sanitary sewer rates affordable.

“SD1 always seeks to strike the proper balance between environmental leadership and fiscal responsibility,” Chaney says. “Through continuous improvement efforts in all aspects of our work, we have been able to improve our service levels while keeping rates as low as possible. I'm proud to say that SD1's rates are some of the lowest when compared to other regional sewer utilities.” The first phase of Clean H2O40 was successfully completed last month. SD1 had committed to eliminating 20 percent of the region's typical-year SSOs and capturing 67 percent of typical-year combined system flow by that date. Through this new strategy, SD1 was able to eliminate over 60 percent of typical-year SSOs and capture nearly 71% of typical-year combined system flow.

SD1 tripled its SSO goal through several important projects, including the Licking River Double Siphon – a pipe built beneath the Licking River that helped to eliminate about 42 million gallons of typical-year SSOs – and EQ tanks in Highland Heights and Silver Grove that eliminated another 22 million gallons. In all, SD1 eliminated about 69.7 million gallons of typical-year SSOs during Phase 1 of Clean H2O40 and expects to eliminate another 40 million gallons over the next 6 years.

On the CSO side, SD1 achieved significant overflow eliminations through an extensive river water intrusion program that keeps river water from getting into the sewer system. This eliminated about 223 million gallons of typical-year CSOs. In the next 6 years, SD1 plans to eliminate another 388 million gallons of typical-year CSOs, with projects planned across the region.

“We have shown through Phase 1 of Clean H2O40 that we take our commitment to the health and wellbeing of our community seriously,” Chaney said. “SD1 will continue this important work through 2040 and beyond.”

Animal Services

Have you noticed the construction? Please excuse our mess!

Our new building addition will replace the existing outdoor kennels on the parking lot side of the building with an enclosed space. The Animal Shelter was designed to house stray dogs for 5 days and then, if not claimed by their owners, euthanized. The health and mental well-being of animals was not considered as animals weren't intended to stay for more than a few days. Our mission changed in 2016, to one focused on lifesaving. This new building addition will help us to eliminate some of the stresses that animals feel from living in an animal shelter environment while they wait for adoption.

The current layout of our building houses cats in the lobby which is busy with customer traffic, ringing phones and dogs coming through during intake, meet and greets and adoptions. Most cats do not handle noise and commotion well and, when stressed, tend to get sick. The building currently does not have an isolation/hospital area to quarantine sick cats away from others or to house cats that need extra recovery time from surgeries. The building also does not have an indoor area for meet and greets with dogs other than the main lobby which makes meet and greets difficult during inclement weather.

Our newly constructed addition will help to correct the flow of the building to reduce stress, contain illness and create a better experience for adopters. It will include an isolation hospital area for cats, a designated area for housing cats away from dog traffic, and private meet and greet rooms for adoption consultations. The addition will allow staff to reorganize the existing lobby for more efficient office space. We'll also be getting a new roof and more efficient ventilation.

We've heard some concerns about removing those outdoor dog pens but we want to assure you, our dogs are exercised in playgroups, indoor enrichment with the staff, and walked by volunteers which is so much better for their mental well-being than putting them outside, alone for the day. If you're interested in volunteering to walk our dogs or play with our cats, we'd be excited to have you!

For more information about Campbell County Animal Services, microchipping, dog licensing, TNR trapping, animal adoption, or volunteering, please visit www.campbellcountyky.gov or call 859-635-2819.

Campbell County Comprehensive Plan Update

The Campbell County & Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission is kicking off an update to the Comprehensive Plan. This Plan Update seeks to navigate growth in a fiscally responsible manner that meets the visions, goals, and objectives of the citizens of Unincorporated Campbell County and the Cities of Crestview, Silver Grove, Southgate, Melbourne, and Woodlawn.

Designed to address the land use related needs of these communities through 2050, the Comprehensive Plan Update will serve as the basic policy framework to manage the future development and preservation of significant resources.

While it is impossible to anticipate all possible future development scenarios, the Comprehensive Plan is an integral tool in guiding future development in the County. This Plan will provide residents, property owners, planning commissions, city councils and the Fiscal Court guidance in decision-making and establishes a basis for evaluating development proposals that will ensure a healthy, safe and prosperous environment for residents, businesses and visitors.

Whether it is the development or preservation of open space, or the redevelopment and revival of existing properties, what a community will look like many years from now depends on decisions made today. The Comprehensive Plan is an expression of the community's vision for the future and a strategic map to reach that vision. Resident input will be sought over the next eighteen months to develop this plan. More details can be found at www.campbellcountyky.gov.

Need for 988

Too many people are experiencing suicidal crisis or mental health-related distress without the support and care they need, and sadly, the pandemic only made a bad situation worse when it comes to mental health and wellness in America.

There are urgent realities driving the need for crisis service transformation across our country.

In 2020, the U.S. had one death by suicide about every 11 minutes. In 2021:

- For people aged 10–14 and 25–34 years, suicide was the second-leading cause of death
- Suicide rates increased significantly among non-Hispanic Black & American Indian and Alaska Native people
- More than 105,000 people died from drug overdoses
- Nearly 900,000 youth aged 12-17 and 1.7 million adults attempted suicide

Yet, there is hope. The 988 Lifeline helps thousands of struggling people overcome suicidal crisis or mental-health related distress every day.

About 988

People can call or text 988 or chat 988lifeline.org for themselves or if they are worried about a loved one who may need crisis support.

988 serves as a universal entry point so that no matter where you live in the United States, you can reach a trained crisis counselor who can help.

988 offers 24/7 access to trained crisis counselors who can help people experiencing mental health-related distress. That could be:

- Thoughts of suicide
- Mental health or substance use crisis, or
- Any other kind of emotion distress

Drop Your Drawers

Keep an eye out for back-to-school socks and underwear sales! Drop Your Drawers will return in November and December, just in time for the giving season.

Every year, the library accepts donations of new pairs of packaged socks, underwear, undershirts and bras to help meet a crucial need for public schools in Campbell County: keeping Family Resource Centers' emergency supplies of such items stocked.

Last year, the library surpassed its goal of raising 7,000 new socks and underwear with the final number rolling in at 9,106 items across all four branches. We can't wait for the annual campaign to return this fall from Nov. 1 to Dec. 31.

What's New At The Library?

In case you missed the news, in May the library welcomed the Westside Express, which is located at the Northern Kentucky Scholar House in Newport.

The new location joins two other express units, one in Silver Grove and the other in Melbourne. As of May 2023, since being introduced in 2017, the Silver Grove and Melbourne Express have been used over 20,000 times. The Westside Express is located at 402 W. Sixth St. while the Silver Grove Express is at 5011 Four Mile Road and the Melbourne Express is at 1402 Mary Ingles Highway.

Shaking Up Shakespeare

As fall nears closer, the library is wrapping up its year-long Shaking Up Shakespeare series. This series celebrated the 400-year anniversary of The First Folio being published, which contains some of the Bard's most beloved plays.

If you haven't attended one of the library's Shaking Up Shakespeare events, now is your chance! There are still two programs covering The Taming of the Shrew — a performance by Kentucky Shakespeare on Aug. 23 and a modern-day movie adaptation screening on Sept. 20.

The final quarter wraps with three programs covering Macbeth: a discussion with Northern Kentucky University's Dr. Barclay Green on Oct. 25; another performance by Kentucky Shakespeare on Nov. 29; and a modern-day movie adaptation on Dec. 20.

Danielle Heiert, Cold Spring's adult/teen services programmer, says that multiple people have told her the series has helped them understand Shakespeare on a deeper level.

"I think my favorite part of Shaking Up Shakespeare has been getting to see how excited and involved all of the patrons are in each of the events," says Heiert. "During the lectures, I see so many people taking notes and asking great questions, and involving other patrons in a discussion on the text."

All events take place at 6 pm on Wednesdays. Visit www.cc-pl.org/shaking-up-shakespeare to register.

The maximum award through this grant can be up to $4,000, which must be matched with cash or in-kind services or donations. The project must be carried out on publicly owned or controlled land. Please contact our office if you need assistance in filing your grant application. The deadline for applications is Friday, August 18, 2023.

Dead Farm Animal Removal Assistance Program

Effective July 1, 2023, Campbell County farmers are granted 100% of the cost of dead animal removal from their farm through a grant from the Kentucky Division of Conservation and from Campbell County Conservation District funds. The program is limited to private landowners. When contacting a hauler, make sure you provide the following information: directions to your farm; the type of animal to be picked up, approximate time of death, and location of the animal; a phone number where you can be reached during the day. Check with your hauler, but in general, haulers require that the animal is out of the barn and on a hard surface. They will not drive out in the pasture to pick up an animal.

Smoke-Free in Campbell County

Recognizing The Health Dangers Brought On By Secondhand Smoke, Several Local Communities Have Implemented Smoke-Free Ordinances, A Move Aimed At Protecting The Public's Health

Take a deep breath and slowly blow it out. Feels good, right? Breathing clean air should feel good. So, how do you ensure you breathe clean air? We know that air quality is affected by many items, including secondhand smoke. The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reports that secondhand smoke contains more than 7,000 chemicals. Hundreds of those chemicals are toxic and 70 can cause cancer.

There is no safe or risk-free level of tobacco smoke, even brief exposure is unhealthy. Secondhand smoke causes numerous health problems including heart disease, stroke, and lung cancer, as well as problems in infants and children. The CDC reports that secondhand smoke exposure causes close to 41,000 deaths per year.

Did you know that working in a smoky place for 6-8 hours is the equivalent of smoking nearly a pack of cigarettes? Separating smokers from nonsmokers, cleaning the air, and ventilating buildings does NOT eliminate exposures of nonsmokers to secondhand smoke.

To improve the health of the public in NKY, it is important to reduce exposure to secondhand smoke and the number of people smoking. One way to reduce exposure to second-hand smoke and the number of people smoking is to implement smoke-free policies. In Campbell County, we have cities that have passed smoke-free policies to protect the health of the community.

On November 6, 2022, the City of Dayton became the 33rd Kentucky city and the first Campbell County city to implement a comprehensive city-wide smoke-free ordinance. Since then, the City of Bellevue implemented a comprehensive city-wide smoke-free ordinance on May 15, 2023. On June 20, 2023 Highland Heights city council passed a city-wide smoke-free ordinance.

These comprehensive policies completely prohibit smoking and vaping indoors in any Dayton, Bellevue, and Highland Heights building or place of employment where the public is invited or permitted, such as offices, hotels, factories, churches, bars, restaurants, bingo halls, bowling alleys and stores. For more information about the ordinances please scan the QR code or visit the NKY Health website at nkyhealth.org/?s=tobacco.

"We congratulate and thank the cities of Dayton, Bellevue and Highland Heights in taking this important step to improve the health of the community," said Dr. Jennifer Mooney, District Director of Health for Northern Kentucky Health Department.

Due to the health effects of secondhand smoke, LiveWell NKY, OneNKY Alliance, Breathe Easy, community members and organizations across Campbell County are dedicated to changing the norm when it comes to lung health in our region.

If you smoke or vape and want to quit, there are organizations and aids to help you stop.

Free Nicotine Replacement, such as gum, patches, and lozenges are available for adults at fourteen local pharmacies throughout Northern Kentucky. For more information regarding pharmacies distributing free nicotine gum, patches and lozenges, scan the QR code.

1-800-Quit Now for adults and My Life My Quit for youth are quitlines available for confidential and free resources that can help one quit smoking or vaping. Each quitline will connect you with a quit coach. Call 1-800-Quit Now or youth can text "Start My Quit" to 36072.

NKY Health Celebrating 10 Years of Accreditation from National Board

Deep within the pages of a 2003 report by the Institute of Medicine on “The Future of the Public’s Health” was a call for the creation of a National Steering Committee to examine the benefits of accrediting governmental public health departments. Within that simple call to action was a seed that has had profound impact on public health agencies nationwide, including the Northern Kentucky Health Department. That seed grew to become the Public Health Accreditation Board, aka PHAB, which has created standards and measures for public health agency practices, and resulted in improved quality, accountability, and performance.

“We want people to know that we are now and have been looking out for their best health interests,” says Mooney,” and for the last decade this national agency has recognized that. We think that’s worth celebrating.”

The Northern Kentucky Health Department was at the tip of PHAB’s accreditation spear, becoming just the 11th agency in the nation to receive accreditation in 2013. More than 300 agencies are now accredited. It was also just the third agency nationally to be reaccredited by PHAB in 2019, meaning it continued to meet national standards for high-quality public health services, leadership, and accountability.

“While receiving accreditation and reaccreditation from PHAB may not mean a lot to the general public,” says District Director of Health Jennifer Mooney, PhD, “what they should at least know is that we have an agency watching over us, and they have twice given us a very hard-earned, comprehensive, exhaustive stamp of approval that says we are doing a great job at protecting the health of the people of Northern Kentucky.”

That first accreditation came 10 years ago, and NKY Health is celebrating that recognition this year.

“We want people to know that we are now and have been looking out for their best health interests,” says Mooney, “and for the last decade this national agency has recognized that. We think that’s worth celebrating.”

HOW TO SAVE A LIFE: Northern Kentucky Health Department Offering Free Naloxone to State Residents to Counteract Opioid Overdoses

Despite the recent decrease in drug overdose deaths in Kentucky—the first such drop in more than four years—more than 2,000 Kentuckians passed away from drug overdoses in 2022, according to the Kentucky Injury Prevention and Research Center. While even one life lost is far too many, Kentucky regularly outpaces a majority of the country when it comes to overdoses and overdose death rates.

Many in the Commonwealth have been personally affected by an overdose or know someone that has. Losing a loved one to overdose can be saddening, confusing, traumatic, and frustrating. It can leave us feeling powerless. However, there is a way to stay prepared and be ready to save a loved one’s or a stranger’s life if the time comes: naloxone.

Obtaining Naloxone

Naloxone is a clinically proven, life-saving medication that counteracts the effects of an opioid overdose, potentially saving someone’s life. It’s easy to use and, now, even easier to get. The Northern Kentucky Health Department offers free naloxone to anyone with a Kentucky address. In partnership with the HEALing Communities Study out of the University of Kentucky, the Health Department’s “Mail Order Naloxone Program” can mail a two-dose box of nasal naloxone to any Kentucky home that requests it, for free. Transportation, money, and location have all acted as historical barriers to successful treatment of substance use disorders and access to life-saving medications. As a result, the mail order program was designed specifically to help break down those barriers and get naloxone to the people that need it the most. Community naloxone distribution is a proven and effective method of driving down overdose rates and saving lives. June 2023 marked the one-year anniversary of the mail order program. Since its inception, the Health Department has mailed out 643 boxes of naloxone.

Looking Ahead

The Health Department is always looking at new ways to help save lives, and making naloxone as accessible as possible is one of the keys to doing that. It is currently working on the creation of “Naloxboxes,” which are opioid overdose response boxes similar to an AED kit that are accessible in public spaces such as businesses, schools, community agencies and government entities. The more methods through which naloxone is made available, and the more people who are prepared to use it around the Commonwealth, the more lives can be saved.

TANK Begins Public Transit to CVG

Exciting changes are coming for Northern Kentucky residents, that will help them better connect to CVG using public transit with TANK.

Starting this August, getting to the Airport will be a lot easier for NKY residents. TANK's 2X Airporter route currently connects downtown Cincinnati to CVG, and runs every 30 minutes, 7 days a week. When TANK service adjustments take effect in August, this route will be extended south to terminate at the Florence Hub transit center on Mall Rd. and will have intermediate stops on Turfway Rd. at the Houston Rd. interchange.

People living along the Dixie Highway corridor (Florence, Elsmere, Erlanger, Crestview Hills, Lakeside Park, Ft. Mitchell) will now be able to get to the Airport in about half the amount of time it takes today. Just catch a #1 or #42X to the Florence Hub to transfer to the 2X.

Today, it can take up to 2 hours for residents of Boone County looking to get to CVG, as they must take their local bus into downtown Cincinnati in order to take the 2X to the airport. This new connection in Florence was one of the most requested comments from TANK's 2020 System Redesign Plan, and thanks to the completion of Wendell Ford Blvd., it will now be possible this August.

NKU's Global Supply Chain Management Program

Offering the only four-year degree of its kind in the region, Northern Kentucky University's Global Supply Chain Management program has grown tenfold since its inaugural semester in 2017. When the major was founded, it consisted of little more than two students and a list of courses accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. Six years later, under the leadership of director Mark Thackeray, the degree track encompasses more than 200 students, a minor, an MBA and a STEM-certified master's degree in supply chain management, which will launch in the Fall 2023 semester.

Thackeray attributes much of the program's success to its focus on experiential learning, offering students the opportunity to attain hands-on experience with greater Cincinnati employers like Amazon, the Castellini Company and DHL, as well as the access it offers students to their faculty.

NKU Upcoming Events

AUGUST 14: FALL CONVOCATION

The annual Fall Convocation will welcome back faculty and staff to campus before the start of the fall semester. Interim President Bonita Brown will give a welcome address and review the successes of the past year.

Mark Thackeray leads NKU's Global Supply Chain Management Program

"All of the professors in this program have industry experience," Thackeray says. "They are academics, meaning they do research, but they're also practitioners. When they come into the classroom, they're speaking from experience. That makes us unique from other schools, which offer a more predominantly research-based experience."

SEPTEMBER 28 – OCTOBER 8: NKU SCHOOL OF THE ARTS PRESENTS "THE CURIOUS INCIDENT OF THE DOG IN THE NIGHT-TIME"

The story follows 15-year old Christopher, a boy with an extraordinary brain that is exceptional at mathematics but ill-equipped to interpret everyday life. When he discovers his neighbor's dead dog, Wellington, he finds himself under suspicion and sets out to solve the mystery, leading him on a thrilling journey that upturns his world.

To be performed in NKU's Griffin Hall Digitarium.

OCTOBER 16 OR 17: YOUNG WOMEN LEAD CONFERENCE

NOVEMBER 3 – 11: NKU SCHOOL OF THE ARTS PRESENTS "9 TO 5: THE MUSICAL"

Featuring music and lyrics by country icon Dolly Parton and a book by Patricia Resnick, "9 to 5: The Musical" is set in the late 1970s and centers around three female coworkers who are fed up with their sexist, egotistical, lying, hypocritical bigot of a boss. They come up with a plan to get even and, in a series of outrageous events, give their workplace a dream makeover while taking control of the company that had always kept them down.

To be performed at The Carnegie, Covington.

DECEMBER 16: COMMENCEMENT

In 2022, the program also opened its Verst Group Logistics Hub of Supply Chain Excellence in the Business Academic Center, providing a central location for activities within the major. The space features a boardroom-style classroom where students attend lectures, an interactive history mural and a reference library.

As warm weather continues to encourage individuals to go outside, I thought it may be helpful to remind the County of the state and local regulations surrounding bicycles. According to the National Safety Council, the number of preventable bicycle accidents has increased exponentially in the last ten years. Therefore, it is important to consider safety when riding a bicycle.

Cyclists are required to comply with all the regular traffic laws such as stop signs, or red lights. Under law, a bicycle is a vehicle, and the bicycle rider is a driver. For example, if a car has the green light to pull out onto road such as US-27, and a bicycle rider is proceeding on a sidewalk along US-27, the bicycle rider is required to stop and permit the car with the green light to proceed onto the highway.

Under Kentucky law, cyclists, similar to automobile drivers, are required to signal potential movements. For a left turn signal, the hand and arm of the bike rider should be extended horizontally from the left side of the bike. For a right turn signal, the right arm can either be extended horizontally to the right or the left arm can be extended horizontally to the left with the hand and arm extended upward from the elbow. Bicycle riders are even required to give stop signals by extending either arm horizontally with the hand and arm extended downward from the elbow to indicate a stop or decrease in speed. Any signals from a bike rider should be given intermittently for the last fifty (50) feet traveled by the bike before the turn or stop.

When a bike is used on a highway, it must be equipped with a horn, bell, or other device capable of making an abrupt sound sufficiently loud to be heard under all ordinary traffic conditions. Bike riders are required to sound the horn or other device whenever necessary as a warning of the approach of the bike to pedestrians or other vehicles but

*A Message from the County Attorney's Office
By Steven J. Franzen, Campbell County Attorney*

should not sound the horn or other device unnecessarily.

Bicycles that are operated on the highway, such as US-27, must be on the right side of the road. Further, a bicycle must be equipped with lights when operated on a highway one-half (1/2) hour after sunset to one-half (1/2) hour before sunrise, or at other times when atmospheric conditions render low visibility. These bicycles must have at least one (1) light in front of the bike which will reveal clearly substantial objects at least fifty (50) feet ahead. Additionally, these bikes are required to have one (1) red light, or one (1) red reflector displayed on the rear of the bicycle. Bicycles are not permitted to be operated on interstates such as, I-75.

However, it is important to note that when a bicycle lane is available it must be used, unless the bicyclist is travelling at the legal speed, executing a left turn, avoiding a hazard, or passing a slower vehicle. Cyclist should be sure to look at the ordinances surrounding bicycle riding in their city since these ordinances may differ between cities. For example, in Fort Thomas, no person of 12 or more in age shall ride a bicycle on any sidewalk in any district, and no person of any age should ride a bicycle on a sidewalk within a business district. However, in Alexandria, bicycles are allowed to be operated on sidewalks unless there is a sign posted prohibiting it.

Although it is not required under Kentucky law, bicyclists should wear a helmet. The Kentucky Department of Transportation reports that helmets protect against injury in 8 out of 10 crashes involving head bumps.

To the surprise of many, Kentucky law also applies Driving Under the Influence laws to bicycle riding. The law provides that no person under the influence of intoxicating beverages or any substance which may impair one's driving ability shall operate a vehicle that is not a motor vehicle anywhere in this state. A bicycle is considered a vehicle under Kentucky law if it is used for the transportation of persons or property over or upon the public highways. The penalty for operating a bicycle on a highway while under the influence is a fine of not less than $20.00 nor more than $100.00 plus court costs.

Northern Kentucky Health Department Looking To Move Beyond The Pandemic And Reshape The Future Of Public Health In The Region

In May, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention officially ended the federal Public Health Emergency (PHE) that was brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic. While cases of COVID-19 still exist in the community, and new or exacerbated health challenges brought on as a result of COVID still exist, officials at the Northern Kentucky Health Department are extremely optimistic about our region's ability to recover and the future of its public health.

"While we continued to provide essential public health services to the community in addition to our COVID response, we were also able to keep our eye on the future and complete two huge projects that will both drive our work and impact the community's health," says District Director of Health Jennifer Mooney, PhD. "With the official end of the Public Health Emergency, we now have the opportunity to move beyond the pandemic, reshape our mission, and impact the future of public health in Northern Kentucky."

The Health Department was able to complete:

- A Community Health Assessment that resulted in a comprehensive Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP).
- And a new Strategic Plan that puts a special focus on four key areas over the next three to six years: operational excellence, strategic communications and relations, engaged partnerships, and building a thriving workforce.

The Northern Kentucky Health Department was one of the first public health agencies across the country to receive national accreditation for its work, and these plans should allow it to not only continue on that path, says Mooney, but excel in its efforts to impact public health in the region.

"These next few years will signify a renaissance period during which we have the opportunity to reconstruct the narrative of public health," says Mooney.

"Our CHIP details the areas of focus, and our Strategic Plan serves as an organizational roadmap in keeping our communities healthy and promoting the best quality of life possible for all those in Northern Kentucky."
